

George E. Veitengruber, III, Esq.

George E. Veitengruber, III, Esq. is the founder of Veitengruber Law, LLC, a New Jersey law firm focused on bankruptcy, foreclosure defense, real estate, and estate planning. After graduating from Capital University Law School in 2001 with a concentration in Alternative Dispute Resolution, George began his legal career as a collection's attorney, representing creditors and financial institutions in the collection of debts. This experience gave him a unique understanding of the strategies and practices used by lenders and creditors.

In 2010, George founded Veitengruber Law, where he shifted his focus to representing individuals, families, and business owners on the other side of financial disputes. Today, he uses his firsthand knowledge of the creditor side to help clients navigate complex financial and legal challenges, making him a particularly effective advocate in bankruptcy, foreclosure defense, and debt-related matters.

George is known for his approachable nature and practical, solution-oriented approach to the law. Beyond his legal practice, he is deeply committed to community service and has been involved in numerous initiatives supporting local families, veterans, individuals with disabilities, and students pursuing leadership and service.

George believes that the law should not only solve problems, but also empower people to make informed decisions and take control of their financial futures.
