

More information about the Staff Benefits need: City Tree Christian School is funded mostly by tuition and does not automatically receive any emergency state or federal funding. With generous support from the church, we were able to continue to pay our entire staff during March. Due to the extended length of preschool and extended care program closure, however, City Tree Christian School and the church made a difficult personnel decision to furlough preschool teachers, K-8 support staff, and office staff. To care for our excellent staff as best as we can, the benefits of furloughed employees have been fully covered. City Tree, along with many other small employers, have applied for a Paycheck Protection Plan loan; but we are still waiting to hear about our application.
