

BIO

Professor Joel Litman is Chairman and CEO of Valens Research and the Founder and Chief Investment Strategist of Altimetry Financial.

Professor Litman has lectured and advised at top programs like Harvard Business School and London Business School, for various branches of the US government, CFA Societies and investment teams from New York to Frankfurt to Beijing, and for leadership of the world's largest firms such as PwC and Credit Suisse.

Professor Litman has been interviewed on CNBC, quoted in the Wall Street Journal's Barron's Magazine and Institutional Investor, and is a regular author in Forbes. He published "Give My Regrets to Wall Street" in Harvard Business Review. Professor Litman co-authored the highly-acclaimed book, "DRIVEN: Business Strategy, Human Actions, and the Creation of Wealth."

As Chairman of the UAFRS Council, Professor Litman has spearheaded the global use of Uniform Accounting for investment decisions and strategic business analysis.

Professor Litman is a member of the CFA Institute, the global association for investment professionals, and the Association of Certified Fraud Examiners. He is a CPA (Certified Public Accountant), received a B.S. in Accounting from DePaul University, and an MBA/MM from the Kellogg Graduate School of Management at Northwestern University.