

Howard University, the Anti-Apartheid Movement & the State of Today

Wednesday, January 25th @ 6pm

First floor of the Ralph J. Bunche Center

ABOUT

HU Professor Krista Johnson will discuss the role of the HU community in the anti-apartheid movement, activities on campus, mobilization of activists, etc. HU Adjunct Professor and Senior Associate and Regional Director for Southern and Eastern Africa at the National Democratic Institute (NDI) Dr. Keith Jennings will discuss the state of South Africa since the fall of apartheid and ways that the HU community can continue to support the people of South Africa who were most effected by the apartheid system. Justine Lewis and Sylvester Johnson, who traveled to South Africa in December with the Young African and Africana Leadership Initiative (YAALI) will offer their perspectives on the current state of South Africa and ways in which they would like to remain engaged following their experience there.

For more information, visit Global.Howard.edu to RSVP. Or find the link in on our social media accounts:

 Ralph J. Bunch International Affairs Center-Howard University

 @Bunche_Intl_HU