

Takeaways.

Keeping your clients engaged and fulfilled.

Tips for supporting your students' balance and position.

Exercises for maintaining your teaching and training horses.

Additional resources for instruction, horse work and professional support.

Contact Linda Wagner at:
503-896-7973

Logistics.

$115 per person (includes lunch)
Bring a chair and warm clothes.

Wild Horse Mountain Farm
36100 NE Wild Horse Mountain Rd.
Sherwood, OR 97140

Register here:

wildhorsemountainfarms.com
lindamwags@aol.com
503-896-7973

Connected Riding[®]

Riding instruction is more than a labor of love.

Enrich
Your Program

Friday February 17, 2017
9a.m. - 5p.m.

Workshop for Instructors.

From teaching tips for students' progress, exercises for maintaining teaching horses, strategies for your work/life balance, ideas for adding new energy to your program ...

Free networking lunch with colleagues, share your program (1 minute introductions if you care to share), bring your business cards and brochures for display and a fun prize drawing.

Morning lectures, demos and Q & A continued with horses in the afternoon.

Lectures and Hands-on Presentations.

LEARN:

New ways to improve your student's seat and riding position.

How to maximize benefits for your horse training exercises.

Teaching strategies- helping your students progress even more.

Tips for your teaching horses, adding longevity and quality of use.

Ideas for maintaining your work/life balance.

PRESENTED BY:

INTERNATIONAL CLINICIAN,
AUTHOR, AND FOUNDER OF
CONNECTED RIDING:

Peggy Cummings

ADDITIONAL PRESENTERS:

Deb Davies
Diane Sept
Julie Staub

WORKSHOP ASSISTANTS:

Joan Thompson, Karen Cheeke
and Judy Good