

The Journal
for Nurse Practitioners

Call for Papers: Aging and Health

JNP: The Journal for Nurse Practitioners is planning a special issue in January 2023 to update diagnostic and treatment information for nurse practitioners (NPs) about aging and health. If your clinical practice area or research involves these matters, we invite your submission for this issue.

The guest editors are Laurie Kennedy Malone, PhD, GNP-BC FAANP, FGSA, and Jacqueline LaManna, PhD, ANP-BC, BC-ADM, CDCES, FADCES. Dr. Kennedy Malone has been a gerontological nurse practitioner for 40 years and professor of nursing at the University of North Carolina at Greensboro since 1990. She is an author of Advanced Practice Nursing in the Care of Older Adults and has served as a member of the board of the Gerontological Advanced Practice Nurses Association and the National Organization of Nurse Practitioner Faculties. She can be contacted at laurie\_kennedy-malone@uncg.edu. Dr. LaManna has been an adult nurse practitioner for 30 years and is an associate professor of nursing at the University of Central Florida. She has extensive experience in diabetes care across the lifespan and is active in the American Association of Diabetes Care and Education Specialists and the American Diabetes Association. She has researched and published on hospital-to-home transitions of older adults with diabetes and older adult caregivers and can be contacted at jacqueline.lamanna@ucf.edu.

We are interested in papers on promotion of healthy aging and prevention (primary, secondary, and tertiary) and management of conditions that present in older adulthood.

We are seeking feature articles (4500 words total) and brief reports based on pilot studies or QI projects, program evaluations, or policy issues (2500 words total), as well as NP education topics related to advanced practice gerontological nursing curricular innovations.

Manuscripts should be submitted no later than June 1, 2022.

Authors should follow the Guide for Authors and submit papers at www.editorialmanager.com/TJNP/default.aspx.

Send queries to Editor in Chief Julee Waldrop at jwaldropjnp@gmail.com.