Good morning, everyone! I hope you all stayed warm and enjoyed your weekend. Let me start this email off by saying, how grateful I am for your support and dedication to your child's education. I saw a huge shift in behavior this week in class. I think it was our most successful week as a group thus far! My heart was bursting at all of the smiles, kind words, and laughs we had this week.

Don't forget, if you would like to order Scholastic books, they are due January 25th! The code is RBPD2.

Look for a SignUp Genius tomorrow for Mystery Reader as well as a snack sign up for our 100th Day of School Celebration!

Speaking of, the 100th day is quickly approaching. I would love to see your fun and creative sides! I think it would be fun for the kids to make 100th day shirts, projects, etc. Whatever you want to do! This is completely optional, however, I think the students would enjoy it! According to my calculations, the 100th day of January 31st! That is when we will be celebrating and doing fun activities! Let me know if you need any ideas. I have already been brainstorming on Pinterest!

This week is a normal week- no events happening!

I think that is it for now. If you have any questions or need anything, please don't hesitate to reach out!

Have a great Sunday!
