

Subject: Weekly Update

Date: Sunday, May 12, 2019 at 10:04:53 AM Eastern Daylight Time

From: Emily Hyleman

To: Robert Compton, Erica McCray

Good morning and happy Mother's Day! I hope all you moms and grandmas have a fabulous day today. I will keep this short and sweet, as I know a lot of you will have plans today!

- Thank you again for coming to our POL. As sent on Remind, I ordered the large package for the sea turtle, the small package for the sea lion, and donated the remaining $8.00 to the WWF.

- This week is a normal week at school! We will close out our opinion writing with our final piece we write for the state. We will start our last social studies standard on past and present. We are going to wrap up our review in math to close any gaps the students may have. I have one more state reading test to complete and we will get back on track with guided reading, so get ready for some new books!

- Thursday May 23rd is the last spirit night at Adventure Air from 5-7 pm. I will not be at this one due to an event my sister is participating in. She has her final dance showcase at her school and I can't wait to watch her.

- Thursday May 16th is the annual art show that Mrs. Griffith puts on from 4-6 pm. It is always a blast!

- Lastly, our end of the year ceremony is Tuesday June 4th starting at 10:30. I still have a few people who have not turned in their $10 for the shirts. If you are in need of financial assistance, please don't hesitate to let me know. I need all the money by Friday May 17th.

- I know we are almost to the end of the year, but we are running low on class snacks. If anyone would like to donate something like pretzels, goldfish, etc that would be great. I got some applesauce this weekend to bring to school.

I hope you all enjoy this quiet Sunday!

Emily Hyleman