

Betsy Dalton Praises Sunday Worship Service

Every GA has a communal Sunday worship experience that is open to the public at no charge. This year, Rev. Joan Javier-Duval, Minister of the Unitarian Church of Montpelier, VT. delivered a truly dynamic sermon, focused on beauty, gratitude, and love at the heart of striving for collective liberation and a thriving planet. I found it very moving and inspiring. The service is still online here in case you missed it. The worship service included a collection for the Tomaquag Museum, amounting to date to over $80,000. You can still donate to this wonderful RI-based indigenous resource center at Donate now.
