Citizens' Climate Lobby

Are you looking for new ways to contribute to Climate Action, post-election 2024?

CCL's Fall Virtual Conference
December 6-7, 2024

You are invited to join the National Virtual Fall Conference of Citizens Climate Lobby on Saturday Dec 7, 1-5 PM at its virtual Fall Conference.

Citizens Climate Lobby has something different to offer:

As a national, non-partisan organization, CCL has earned a seat at the table with lawmakers in both parties. They are planning to capitalize on their long history of working respectfully across the aisle. Efforts will focus on the first 100 days of the administration.

For example, CCL will describe plans to ensure that all lawmakers see the advantages of retaining the Inflation Reduction Act

To become part of the action, engage with Rhode Island CCL as we join CCL members across the country. Please join us on Dec 7, 1-5pm for all or part of the program.

TWO WAYS TO ATTEND:

1. Join our Watch Party on Dec 7 at the Westminster Unitarian Church, 119 Kenyon Ave East Greenwich, RI 02818. Come at 12:30 to take in key messages about how election results inform our path forward. Participate in the camaraderie and empowerment that is CCL. In fact, consider bringing a friend! Please RSVP to Barbara Watts bsullivanwatts@gmail.com

   OR
2. Register here: Fall Virtual Conference and watch from your own computer.

The full Agenda of the Conference is here

The Watch Party is only for Dec 7.

One highlight of the agenda is an address by Senator-elect John Curtis, R-Utah, known for his work across party lines. When a member of the House of Representatives he was Founder and Chair of the Conservative Climate Caucus "…because Republicans need to learn more about this issue and grow on the issue…".

Citizens' Climate Lobby (CCL) is a nonprofit, nonpartisan, grassroots advocacy climate change organization focused on national policies to address the national and global climate crisis.
