Please Welcome Kyle Gochenour to The Joyce Agency

Kyle comes to us from Atlantic Constructors, a Richmond-based specialty construction and service provider, where he gained valuable experience with sales of the maintenance offerings, business development of the service division, and a key account management particularly with a focus on government and higher education accounts. Prior to joining Atlantic, Kyle ran his own sports management company where he was an agent for a number of professional football, baseball, hockey, and basketball players.

Currently, Kyle resides in Richmond, Virginia with his wife Sara and their beagle mix, Remington. As a graduate from Virginia Tech, he enjoys watching college football, fishing, traveling, and brewing his own beer.

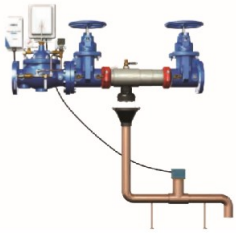

Please feel free to email Kyle and welcome him to The Joyce Agency!

MANUFACTURER ANNOUNCEMENTS

Watts SentryPlus Alert™ Technology by Watts

SentryPlus Alert™ TECHNOLOGY

The New Standard for Plumbing - Connected technology and internet-enabled products are not the future. They are here!

SentryPlusAlert™ Technology by Watts uses these innovations to detect and protect against excessive Reduced Pressure Zone (RPZ) discharge. With SentryPlus Alert™ Technology, you are able to detect excessive backflow relief valve discharge, notify with wireless multi-channel alerts and protect with automatic shutoff. Flooding is expensive. Protection isn't.

The Joyce Agency Company Party

The Joyce Agency Annual Company Party at the Baltimore Aquarium in Maryland

This year we held our annual Joyce Agency party at the Baltimore Aquarium in Maryland! As the aquarium closed, The Joyce Agency party began. Not only did we have the entire aquarium to ourselves, we had access to all the great exhibits. After our tour, we ended up among the jellyfish were we had dinner. This year we decided to switch things up and have the first ever "Joycies" award ceremony. Email your favorite Joyce Agency employee and ask them about what award they won!
