Artificial Intelligence Program
your path to success begins Summer 2019

innosphere

WHO SHOULD APPLY TO INNOSPHERE'S AI PROGRAM?

Early-stage companies using AI and Machine Learning technology

Innosphere's incubation program has been accelerating the success of high-impact startup and scaleup companies for over 20 years. The upcoming Artificial Intelligence program will offer both one-on-one support and specialized content in a cohort setting for entrepreneurs working on the development of Artificial Intelligence products, tools and applications.

WHY NOW? WHY INNOSPHERE?

Because AI isn't just a massive scientific discipline – it's one of the fastest growing marketplaces in tech Companies across multiple industries are adopting Artificial Intelligence to scale up and improve their business. From e-commerce to national security, advances in Deep Learning are helping drive business success.

According to Stanford University's AI 100 Index of AI startups, the number of active AI startups has grown fourteenfold since 2000, and VC investment has grown six times over the same period. So now is your time to join Innosphere – the program known for ensuring companies are investor- ready, connecting entrepreneurs with experienced advisors, making introductions to corporate partners, exit planning, and accelerating top line revenue growth.

WHEN IS IT?
