

Long Term Care Webinar Series

Focusing on all aspects of nutrition, wound healing, documentation and proactive care

Your choice of 4 webinars for all disciplines involved in wound care

Healing Wounds from the Inside Out: Your Nutrition Toolbox for Long Term Care

This 50 minute webinar covers the entire range of nutrition interventions from food to tube feedings. This is the most nutrition focused webinar of the series.

- Recognize the role nutrition plays in acute and chronic wounds
- Identify the key nutrients needed to fuel the wound healing process
- Understand the rationale for the use of targeted amino acids in wound healing

Improving Medical Record Documentation for Nutrition and Wounds

This 50 minute webinar delves into documentation requirements and common problem areas in the litigious and highly regulated long term environment. Invite case managers, risk managers, and all disciplines who are required to document in the medical record.

- Describe the physician orders and care areas that frequently lead to concerns in the medical record
- Discuss how to implement a minimum of three strategies to improve documentation and patient care
- Recognize the need to coordinate nutrition care and wound care for better patient outcomes

Skin Is In! The Role of Nutrition in Pressure Injuries

This 50 minute webinar reviews skin basics as well as the microcirculation of skin and the development of pressure injuries. Invite your nursing assistants as this covers hands-on care and strategies to meet the elevated nutritional requirements for healing on a daily basis.

- Review the structure and function of skin
- Discuss the nutrients needed for building new tissue
- Describe the use of amino acids in long-term care patients

Evidence Into Action: A Review of the Updated Guidelines for Nutrition and Pressure Injuries

This 50 minute webinar reviews the updated National Pressure Injury Advisory Panel 2019 nutrition guidelines for patients with and at risk for pressure injuries. Invite nurses, administrators, and dietitians who are interested in learning about the current clinical guidelines for nutrition in pressure injuries

- Recognize the nutritional components of wound care that have new and/or updated guidelines
- Develop and implement an individualized care plan for patients with, or at risk, of a pressure injury
- Articulate the current recommendations for calories, protein, and oral nutrition supplements for patients with, or at risk, of a pressure injury

Your Speaker

Dr. Nancy Collins is a wound care certified registered and licensed dietitian based in Las Vegas, NV. She has more than 25 years of practitioner experience in food service management, clinical nutrition, and consulting to health care institutions. In addition, Dr. Collins is nationally known as a medico-legal expert dealing with the issues of malnutrition and wound healing in patients and has served as an expert witness in more than 450 legal matters.

To Schedule a Webinar, Please Contact your Abbott Representative

In accordance with PhRMA Code on Interactions with Healthcare Professionals, attendance at this program is limited to healthcare professionals. Accordingly, attendance by guests or spouse is not appropriate.

This program is not intended for continuing education credits for any healthcare professional.

© 2020 Abbott Laboratories 20203874 April/2020 LITHO IN THE USA

