

2023 Legislative Session Weekly Report Greater Kitsap Chamber of Commerce March 19, 2023

Week Ten

As week 10 comes to a close, we now have less than 40 days remaining in the legislative session. This week legislators returned to their respective committees in order to hear bills from the opposite chamber. Bills must now move forward in the opposite chamber, progressing through policy and fiscal committees. The opposite house fiscal cutoff is April 4th, and then both chambers will return to the floor to debate bills before the opposite floor cutoff on April 12th.

Following the house of origin cutoff last week, both Democrats and Republicans gave their perspectives on how things went. Senators Billig and Randall were joined by Representatives Jinkins and Fitzgibbon for the Democratic Leadership Media Availability. Senate Democrats voiced that they were proud of the agreement that came together with the Blake decision and vehicular pursuits. During the Republican Leadership Media Availability on Tuesday, Senators Braun and Rivers were joined by Representatives Wilcox and Stokesbary. Republican leadership voiced appreciation for the passage of the Blake decision, vehicular pursuits, middle housing, ADU legislation, and educational bills that work on learning loss.

There are many labor and workforce bills that are making their way through the legislature still. On Monday, the Senate Labor and Commerce Committee heard HB 1050 (Riccelli, D-3) which expands apprenticeship utilization requirements to state agencies, school districts, and 4-year projects that cost $1 million or more. . Also on Monday, the Senate Early Learning and K-12 Committee heard bipartisan HB 1525 (Fosse, D-38) which expands Working Connections Child Care eligibility to include the first 12 months of an applicant's enrollment in a state registered apprenticeship program. Supporters say those pursuing apprenticeships should have the same access to child care that students in vocational programs have. Apprenticeships have been a major area of interest for both parties in recent years as the legislature focuses on filling the worker shortage across various sectors. On Tuesday the House Labor and Workplace Standards Committee heard SB 5217 (Dhingra, D-45), which restores the state's ability to regulate certain industries and risk classes to prevent musculoskeletal injuries and disorders. On Friday the Committee passed the bill.

Environmental issues also continue to be a priority for the majority party with several bills heard this week. On Monday, the House Committee on Environment & Energy heard governor-request SB 5165 (Nguyen, D-34) which changes Washington's electric transmission planning timelines and requires planners to consider renewable energy projects. The bill passed the Senate floor 36-13. HB 1181 (Duerr, D-1) was heard in the Senate Committee on Local Government, Land Use & Tribal Affairs Committee on Tuesday. Among other elements, this governor-request bill will require climate change planning under the Growth Management Act. This bill received a lengthy debate and 14 proposed amendments over on the House floor with one Democrat joining Republicans in opposition, passing 57-41. The Senate Environment Energy and Technology Committee heard another piece of governor-request legislation this week HB 1216 (Fitzgibbon, D-34) which aims create more efficient siting of clean energy projects, protect the environment, communities, and tribes, as well as benefit communities that host clean energy projects, and facilitate the transition to clean energy. The bill passed the House 75-20. HB 1589 (Doglio, D-22) was heard for a public hearing in front of the Senate Committee on Environment, Energy & Technology on Friday. This bill works to decarbonize the electric utility grid by incentivizing a certain utility to move away from natural gas by June 30th of this year. Thirty-nine individuals testified on the legislation.

A couple of bills relating to public safety that worked their way through committees this week. SB 5740 (J. Wilson, R-19), regarding catalytic converter theft, had a public hearing this week. HB 1638 (Fey, D-27) which addresses state trooper recruitment had a public hearing on Monday. As of 2022, out of the 683 state patrol positions patrolling the roads, there were 187 vacancies. This bill helps create a monetary incentive program to help hire and retain peace officers.

Health insurance plans in Washington may cover additional items if two bills heard this week in the Senate Committee on Health & Long Term Care week pass. On Tuesday, the committee heard HB 1222 (Orwall, D-33) which requires non-grandfathered large group health plans to provide coverage for hearing instruments, modifies requirements for hearing instrument coverage for plans offered to public employees, and requires the insurance commissioner to include hearing instruments in any updated essential health benefits benchmark plan, upon authorization from the Legislature to update the plan. This bill was a bit of an anomaly in House Appropriations where the committee heard testimony from impacted children, went to caucus immediately, and gave it a bipartisan vote the same day, which is exceedingly rare. On the House floor, the bill received broad bipartisan support, passing 89-8. And on Thursday, the committee heard HB 1151 (Stonier, D-49) which would require large group health plans, including health plans offered to public employees, to cover the diagnosis of infertility, treatment for infertility, and standard fertility preservation services. This bill passed the House 65-30, with Republican lawmakers expressing concern about the rising cost of premiums

On Thursday, the House headed to the floor to take action on several tax related bills. These bills are considered necessary to implement the budget (NTIB) and hence, they are not subject to cutoffs.. One of the bills that passed unanimously was HB 1018 (Tharinger, D-24), which aims to change the expiration date for the sales and use tax exemption of hog fuel to comply with the 2045 deadline for fossil fuel-free electrical generation in Washington state. This bill also intends to protect jobs with health care and retirement benefits in economically distressed communities. HB 1573 (Rule, D-42) drew some opposition for proposing the extension of B&O tax preferences for dairy, fruit and vegetable, and seafood processors from 2025 to 2035. The bill eventually passed with a vote of 77-19.

On Friday, the Senate Housing Committee held hearings on two high profile pieces of legislation related to housing. First on the agenda was HB 1474 (Taylor, D-30) which creates the Covenant Homeownership Account to assist individuals that were affected by racially restrictive covenants with first-time home purchasing costs. The bill passed the House 53-43. Second on the agenda was HB 1110 (Bateman, D-20) which is legislation that addresses the "missing middle" by requiring cities to change local zoning laws to allow for more dense housing. Rep. Bateman (D-20) and republican co-sponsor Rep. Barkis (R-2) presented the bill together to the Senate Housing Committee, demonstrating that there is bipartisan support for the legislation. Over 40 individuals testified on the bill.

Next week, the House and Senate will continue to hear and pass bills that have passed out of the opposite chamber. The focus will also shift to budget conversations as the state revenue forecast is expected to come out on Monday, and the Washington State Economic and Revenue Forecast Council update will begin at 2:00 PM. Tune in here to get the latest update. We expect that the Senate will release their Capital, Operating and Transportation next week and the House will release theirs soon after. At that time budget negotiations will begin.

HB 1351/SB 5456 - Prohibiting the imposition of minimum parking requirements except under certain circumstances.

This bill was introduced to encourage more transit oriented development by prohibiting minimum parking requirements. The House bill remains in Rules and is unlikely to move forward this session.

This legislation sponsored by Senator Robinson is the vehicle for legislation dealing with the Blake decision this session. The Senate brought the bill to the floor for a lengthy floor debate. The body considered several amendments and ultimately passed the bill 28-21. 15 democrats voted against the bill along with 6 republicans. The split vote comes with different perspectives as it relates to criminalizing drug possession, the 15 democrats that voted against the bill expressed on the floor that they believe criminalizing drug possession keeps folks in poverty and leads to homelessness and even drug overdoses. The 6 republicans that voted no likely would prefer to see increased penalties (for example a felony) for drug possession. The bill is scheduled for a public hearing in the House Community Safety, Justice and Reentry Committee on Monday, March 20th.

The WRAP act ran into stiff resistance from a variety of stakeholders and with a significant number of legislators and did not pass out of the House. At this point, it appears to be dead for this session. We will continue to monitor what may come from this but no matter what, conversations around recycling and how to manage recycling will continue.

SB 5482 / HB 1644 - Margins Tax

In 2017, the Washington State Legislature established the Tax Structure Work Group, a bipartisan group of legislators tasked with restructuring the state's tax code to address issues that the current code poses. One of the workgroup recommendations was to replace the state's Business & Occupational tax with a modified tax of gross receipts of what is known as a Margins Tax. The current B&O tax is based on gross income, where most businesses do not receive a deduction. Under the new proposed structure, businesses would be taxed on their margin, calculated as gross income minus one of four deductions (chosen annually) - cost of goods sold, compensation paid, a fixed percentage of gross receipts (30%), or a flat amount ($1 million). You can use the Tax Calculator to see what your business would pay. SB 5482 was heard in the Senate Business, Financial Services, Gaming and Trade Committee. Transportation ESHB 1736 - Requiring the department of licensing to collect vehicle odometer readings at the time of original vehicle registration and registration renewal.

This legislation would require the Department of Licensing to collect motor vehicle odometer readings upon vehicle registration. Failure to provide mileage would not result in denial of vehicle registration or the issuance of any penalty. ESHB 1736 had a public hearing on March 13 in its Senate policy committee and has not yet been scheduled for executive action.

HB 1791 - Studying the need for increased commercial aviation services

This legislation would replace the Commercial Aviation Coordinating Commission (CACC), which was tasked in 2019 with identifying locations for a new large airport in Western Washington, with a Commercial Aviation Coordinating Work Group. The new Work Group would evaluate the commercial aviation needs of Washington within the broader context of state transportation needs and the specific needs of Western Washington. It would also require the Work Group to investigate the expansion of existing aviation facilities and possible locations for new greenfield aviation facilities and report on the strengths and weaknesses of each site considered. This substitute was passed out of the House Transportation Committee on February 23. The House passed the bill 88-9 and it is scheduled for a public hearing in the Senate Transportation Committee on Tuesday, March 21st.
