

With the holiday season around the corner and a finish to a very busy golf season here in Sask, I would like to say thanks to the golf course managers and teams around the province. Most of Saskatchewan golf courses saw an unusually warm fall after a cooler summer which many courses around the province had record years in rounds of golf played. With this warmer fall, many courses are able to get some extra work done with the above seasonal fall weather.

The Sask Turf Association held another successful Fall Windup hosted by Saskatoon Golf and Country Club with many great speakers and great attendance. The STA would also like to thank everyone that attended, along with the sponsors and speakers that attended.

The province has seen some snow in the south and north with courses having a nice blanket to start the winter. Here's to a great off season and hopefully everyone can take in some great conferences over the winter.

Thanks

Lance Wakefield
CGSA Sask Director