

Guelph Turfgrass Institute Grand Opening

The new G.M. Frost Research and Information Centre will be the centrepiece of the recently relocated Guelph Turfgrass Institute (GTI), which marks its 35th anniversary as a national leader in research, extension work and professional development for the study of turf.

On September 16th the state-of-the-art facility officially opened with a field day. CGSA COO Kathryn Wood was in attendance and viewed the learning spaces and turf plots firsthand. “Seeing the variation and expanse of the turf plots available for research was impressive. And to know that research for Canadian conditions is being conducted is notable.”

The GTI is still fundraising for the maintenance and teaching building. If you are interested in supporting that initiative please contact GTI@uoguelph.ca.
