

Manitoba GreenMatter Report

As we head into the summer Superintendent's in Manitoba have been focused mostly on keeping things moist as rainfall has been a bit sparse to start the season off in the Winnipeg area as well as in Western Manitoba. So far we have had good attendance at the 2 MGSA monthly meetings at Players Course and St. Boniface Golf Club hosted by Garth Recksiedler and Darren Kalyniuk. Both courses were in great shape and a good time was had by all. Major upcoming events in Manitoba include the John B. Steel Championship hosted by Drew Thunder at Lake of the Sandhills and the MGSA Turfgrass Research Tournament hosted by Dave Linstead at Bel Acres Golf and Country Club.

The CGSA has recently announced both its Fall Field Day and spring 2020 conference locations. The Fall Field Day at Cabot Resort is certainly a great opportunity to see two of Canada's most exciting courses. Be sure to sign up early as it will certainly be a popular event. Additionally CGSA has announced that it is returning to Ottawa for the Canadian on March 2nd to 5th at the Westin. The conference will be co-hosted by the Ottawa Valley Turfgrass Association and while it is a ways off be sure to mark your calendars.

All the best for a great summer
