

Quebec Regional Report

In the Belle Province, especially the greater region of Montreal, winter has been warmer than normal. Despite having almost all the snow melt during the Christmas holidays, we now have more than two feet of snow covering the ground.

Spring is fast approaching and several golf courses will be starting to remove snow off the greens in hopes of removing tarps by the end of the month.

I would like to thank all the golf course superintendents and distributors from Quebec who were able to attend the CGSA conference in Vancouver. Thank you to the organizing committee. I found the seminars to be excellent and very informative. The Keynote speaker, Joe Roberts, was very inspiring. A big thank you to John Scott, AGS, who has just finished his tenure on the CGSA board. All your hard work is greatly appreciated.

On March 14th and 15th, the QGSA will be holding their SSQG 2023 conference at the Best Western Hotel in Drummondville. The event marks the starting sign of the upcoming golf season.

Finally, I would like to wish all my colleagues a good start to their spring and an exceptional season ahead.
