19 years

34 years in the industry

Spent the first part of my career in golf course construction, involved in the construction and or grow-in of several courses

1) Don't let anyone ruin your day.

2) You don't own the golf course.

3) Leave your ego at the door.

4) Don't over work yourself, your members/guests don't know the difference between you working 40 hours or working 60 hours a week.

Early mornings, celebrating staff successes, and producing a product that is both marketable and profitable.
