

Manitoba Report

As summer gets going in Manitoba it continues to be fairly dry after a very wet 2022 season. Most Superintendents that I have spoken with are watering heavily to keep turf as healthy as possible. July has brought slightly cooler weather so far than May and June which were well above their average temperatures. Courses report still being busy and everyone seems to have lots of projects on the go.

MGSA recently hosted its John B. Steel event at Niakwa Country Club. Shawn Major, AGS, host Superintendent, had the course in great shape and the winners who will represent Manitoba at the Fall Field Day in September are Jordan Joye, Mark Kerkowich, Jon McMorris and Joe Chartrand.

I wish everyone the best with the remainder of their summer season and hopefully the odd rainfall makes an appearance. Looking forward to seeing many of you at Beacon Hall this September.

Braydon Gilbert, AGS
