

N.C. A&T
STATE UNIVERSITY

COOPERATIVE
EXTENSION

COMMUNITY GARDEN FALL ZOOM PROGRAM SERIES

This series is open to the public and in collaboration with NC State Extension as well as various N.C. community garden leaders. Workshops will be offered every other Thursday and will alternate between beginning and advanced community garden topics. The beginning topics will be presented the first workshop of the month, and the more advanced topics will be discussed the second workshop each month.

THURSDAYS, NOON - 1 P.M., SEPT. 24 - NOV. 19, 2020

SEPT. 24: Community Garden Best Practices During the Pandemic

REGISTRATION: https://ncat.az1.qualtrics.com/jfe/form/SV_5uWweIAHA30s7rf

A panel of community garden leaders from various gardens throughout N.C will share their experiences adapting to COVID-19.

Panelists:

1. Joni Torres Community Garden Technician, Pitt County
2. Quina Weber- Shirk Community and School Garden Coordinator, Guilford County
3. Nadine Ford, Mecklenburg County
4. TBD

OCT. 8: A Year in the Garden, Organizing and Planning for Success

REGISTRATION: https://ncat.az1.qualtrics.com/jfe/form/SV_ezmbHp0VECFChzn

This interactive session will walk participants through how to manage and what to do in the garden through each season of the year.

OCT. 22: Mapping Reciprocal Partnerships

REGISTRATION: https://ncat.az1.qualtrics.com/jfe/form/SV_bQuGVzLNyWjrvP

Community garden leaders will share the stories of their gardens through the use of asset mapping.

NOV. 5: Evaluation and Recordkeeping

REGISTRATION: https://ncat.az1.qualtrics.com/jfe/form/SV_bvclUGjARqoRcNf

Guest Presenter Olivia Percoco from Resourceful Communities will demonstrate the online evaluation tool she developed. Additionally, we will discuss the importance of evaluation and how to involve others in gathering data.

NOV. 19: Volunteer Engagement

REGISTRATION: https://ncat.az1.qualtrics.com/jfe/form/SV_0jKwfTYKXxgGY73

Diana McCall, the manager of the Dr. Wilson Community Garden in Black Mountain, will share tips and tricks for managing and engaging garden volunteers. She has many years of garden management, community organizing and facilitation experience.