Fortside Brewing–Vancouver

1) Orange Whip - Hazy IPA (ABV 5.9% / IBU 60)
Sometimes you just need an Orange Whip. Doesn’t matter if you’re at the end of an epic police chase or if you’re just at the end of the bar, order an Orange Whip (or better yet three Orange Whips). This delightfully approachable yet complex hazy sings an eloquent and deep tune, rooted in citrus and tropical hop flavors but is expansive in it’s full throated and soulfully creamy mouthfeel. Brash but nonetheless smooth, Orange Whip predicates a juicy hipness not bound by convention or style, neither hype nor hysteria, just smooth and sultry deliciousness that borders on the criminal.

2) Uncloudy Day IPA (ABV 7.6% / IBU 55)
Willie Nelson’s vices are well documented - and while beer isn’t as high on the list as certain other substances- we strongly feel that when Willie composed Uncloudy Day he was speaking to his love for bright and crystal clear IPA’s. Taking inspiration from Mr. Nelson we concocted a big and bold old school IPA featuring some of our favorite hops, a perfectly composed malt bill, and restrained but prominent bitterness. Uncloudy day shines with dank notes of pine, bright citrus, mango, and a smidge of diesel over the top of a light malt punch that finishes dry and ultra clean. As expansive and satisfying as a cloudless summer sky, Uncloudy Day IPA will have you feeling free and without boundaries regardless of the weather. Oh, they tell me of a beer far beyond the skies, where no storm clouds rise. Oh, they tell me of an unclouded day.

3) Bramble Bomb - Blackberry Sour (ABV 6% / IBU 11)
Bramble Bomb is, well, the bomb. A kettle sour absolutely exploding with fruity Blackberry character (to the tune of 32 pounds per barrel), a clean and pleasant acidity, and just enough body to balance, this crusher of a fruited sour will melt your face. In just the right way. A touch of sweetness is balanced by a refreshing minerality and a kiss of fruity tannins that hits the palate and instantaneously clears into a bright, clean, and intensely refreshing finish. Let the bomb blow.

4) Strata-Spheric Hazy IPA (ABV 6.5% / IBU 32)
Sometimes a beer comes along that is just so good, so sublime, so utterly delightful, that it’s literally out of this world. StrataSpheric Hazy IPA is such a beer. Satisfying, light bodied, and refreshing, this next level quaff is super soft yet absolutely blasts off with a bevy of hops. Citra and Mosaic in the whirlpool along with Strata and El Dorado in the hoptimer seamlessly combine, jettisoning sky high aromas and flavors of peach, tangerine, and cantaloupe. Buckle up, sit back, and enjoy- you’re going for a big time ride.

5) BridgeFort IPA (ABV 5.5% / IBU 50)
What’s old is new, and what’s gone is cool. For all of us who are of a certain age (still young and strapping, that is), the iconic BridgePort IPA was a formative beer in our collective move away from the bland macro adjunct lagers that dominated the mid-late 20th century, and was truly a harbinger of the big, bold, and hoppy flavors the 21st century had in store. As an ex-BridgePort brewer myself, I can testify to these heady times and still draw inspiration from this forward thinking brew. Lemon forward noble hops in the boil and the classic cascade and chinook combo in Fortside’s hop back accurately mimic the magic of BridgePort’s english style Hop Jack, which I still have nightmares all these years later about having to clean out 3 times a day, 4 days a week, for 5 years. Combined with a classic and hella active english yeast strain, BridgeFort IPA gets you as close as you can get to the original. Take a sip. Then take a bigger sip. Then take a solid pull and let yourself be transported back to more innocent, pure, and simple -but no less tasty- times.
