

Programming 101

(A guide to putting the fun in camp)

(Be creative but stay safe. You are the adult in the situation and know what the campers can and cannot do).

Education: Teach subtly, and implement something into each program, if you can. It does not always have to be “Jewish”, but chanichim need to take away something from each peulah. This will differ based on Eidah. If you’re doing this right, they won’t realize they’re learning because its fun!

Timing a Peulah

One of the trickiest aspects of writing a peulah is getting the timing right. It is important to think ahead of time about how much time you want to spend on each activity and to make sure there's enough time at the end of the activity to clean up. Here is a sample of timing for a sports chug.
