Dr. Kathleen Manges found encouragement and inspiration to launch her ministry as she read DECADE by DECADE. See what she has to share!

“While pursuing my doctorate in Christian executive leadership, I watched an interview between Dr. Keith Johnson and Bobb Biehl. During the interview, Bobb discussed his book DECADE by DECADE and how our 60s can be our most productive decade IF we begin thinking strategically in our 50s about the second half of our lives.

“While still in my 50s, I ordered a copy of DECADE by DECADE. I found the motivation to become an author and launch a new ministry. My first book is for children. I had just endeavored to minister to a Hindu lady who was suffering from a terminal illness. I asked the Lord for a unique strategy to share Bible verses and the gospel with unbelievers and non-Christian families. This is when the Holy Spirit gave me the idea to create a children’s activity book (available on Amazon) that includes scriptures and the prayer of salvation.

“I was so impacted by Bobb’s research, and his succinct ability to explain life’s predictable focus in each decade with just one word, that my husband and I placed a bulk order of DECADE by DECADE so we could share this valuable resource with our church staff. The ministry staff was in the beginning stages of preparing for a three-year building expansion project. I ensured all the pastors, administrators, media team leaders, and other staff received a personal copy of DECADE by DECADE.

“As a part of the weekly prayer team, I shared the book with others who counsel or minister to people of various ages. It offers them a solid resource, enabling them to quickly consider the decade the person is in and their greatest challenge based on the research presented in the book.”
