

2026 LTPC Policy Fellows Leadership Program application is now open!

NOTE: This fellowship is only for Texas residents.

The fellowship's primary outcome is to strengthen and increase the Latino research community's leadership, voice, and influence in public policy.

This Fellowship has been designed by the Latino Texas Policy Center and supported by our partnership with the University of Texas - Latino Research Institute.

The Fellowship aims to increase applied policy research to directly influence public policy in a way that ensures solutions implemented by our political leadership directly address the issues and assets of the TX Latino community.

This Fellowship is an opportunity to join the Latino Texas Policy Center's effort to increase economic mobility opportunities and overall bienestar (well-being) for Latino Families throughout Texas. We know that when Latinos thrive so do all Texans.

Key Objectives of the Fellowship:

- Increase the number of Latino professionals contributing their expertise to policy research, policy creation, and advocacy
- Strengthen the capacity of current Latino researchers to contribute to public policy leadership
- Reimagine and bridge the relationship between research and leadership skills to increase impact on community
- Create working collaborations amongst Latino researchers across disciplines and community stakeholders
