

Dear Service Provider,

We have all experienced change during the COVID-19 pandemic.

A research team at California State University Los Angeles, (CSULA), has developed a 10-15 minute survey, in English and Spanish, for parents to fill-out about Screen Time and effects on their families during the COVID-19 pandemic.

It would be our pleasure to collaborate with you and your organization. Other agencies have asked our team to give presentations to their agency/organization members once the surveys are completed and tallied. We welcome that opportunity with you and your agency, too.

Our CSULA research team consists of Dr. Elaine Fogel-Schneider, PhD., CCC-SLP, Dr. Erica Ellis, PhD., CCC-SLP, and Dr. Deborah Ross-Swain, EdD., CCC-SLP.

Individuals who care for a child under the age of 18 or a child who is in school up to age 23, are eligible to participate. If you are ready to distribute the survey and/or take the survey now, simply open up the link below to access it. Flyers are available in Spanish and English. The flyers are attached and ready for dissemination and posting.

Below are three steps to participate now:
