ABOUT THIS PRESENTATION

Two national speakers will discuss today's marijuana. Today's marijuana is much more potent than in the past — with pot edibles, candies, cookies, ice creams, and waxes being up to 99% THC. In comparison, marijuana in the Woodstock era contained 5% THC. Laura tells her personal story of the heartbreak of losing a child who became psychotic after dabbing high-potency marijuana concentrates and thought the mob was after him.
