

All Abilities Day at the Bruce Museum

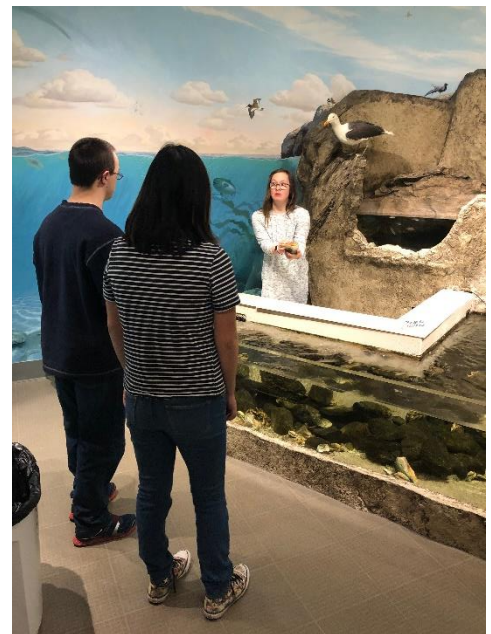

Saturday, June 8, 10 am-4 pm

Admission is free for all

The Bruce Museum is excited to host its first-ever All Abilities Day! This special day is a collaboration between the Museum and six incredible Community Connections students who, thanks to a grant from Abilis, have been working at the Museum since January. The students have put together an action-packed schedule of fun, family-friendly activities, including performances by the Traveling Lantern Theater Company, hands-on explorations of art and science throughout the Museum, Family Gallery Tours, and much more.

For more information, please reach out to Corinne Flax, Manager of School and Community Partnerships, at 203-413-6742 or cflax@brucemuseum.org.

We hope to see you at the Bruce on June 8!

Community Connections students working on a promotional video while learning how to handle animals from the Museum's marine tank.