

Myth– Giving minors alcohol under supervision is responsible.

Fact– A common myth around teens and adults is that it's more responsible to give minors alcoholic drinks with adult supervision. Studies show that young people are less likely to develop alcohol problems if their parents have stricter rules about alcohol use.