

Save the date: Northwestern University workshop for small business leaders and owners November 12th & 13th

Are you a minority or women small business leader, or do you own a small business in the Chicagoland area? Are you interested in doing business with Northwestern University?

Northwestern University is hosting a free virtual workshop designed for minority owned, woman owned, and Chicagoland business leaders interested in learning more about becoming a vendor to universities, and enhancing useful business skills.

Please help us tailor the programming to your interest areas by completing our survey.

Complete Survey

Date November 12th & 13th

Speakers

Speakers will include representatives from Corporate Engagement, Kellogg School of Management, Pritzker School of Law, and Procurement and Payment Services at Northwestern University

Format

This workshop will offer multiple sessions on topics of interest to the audience.

Registration

Registration for the free virtual sessions will open the week of October 12th. While completing the survey is not required to attend the sessions, those who fill out the survey will be sent registration information directly.

We look forward to your feedback and involvement in this workshop.

Corporate Engagement, Kellogg School of Management, Pritzker School of Law, & Procurement and Payment Services at Northwestern University

With thanks to our sponsor:

JPMorgan Chase – Ascend Small Business Growth