Nationally ranked IB students deliver global insight and research-backed strategy.
- Global Supply Chain Management Practicum:
GSCM teams drive operational impact with average projected savings of $3.5 million per project.
- MBA Practicum:
Graduate students provide advanced strategy and implementation-ready solutions.

Bryant University's College of Business is world-renowned for excellence. This means that when you partner with Bryant, you gain direct access to top talent ready to deliver your company results.

As a practicum partner, you will:

Work directly with a professor and mentor-led student team. You will meet with students on-site or on campus for discovery and collaboration.

Tailor your consulting needs to research, sales, marketing, project management, and more across global industries, including manufacturing, retail, wholesale trade, services, and beyond.

Receive strategic, implementation-ready presentations.

Tap into a pipeline of day-one-ready talent.

“ These projects are a ‘win-win’: the students gain valuable experience and confidence, while the client receives problem-solving analysis and recommendations to drive performance in their business. ”

Why Choose Bryant

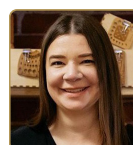

Hear from business leaders who've experienced Bryant's Practicum program first-hand.

Avi Nevel

Founder and CEO of the Rhode Island Israel Collaborative (RIIC)

"I am always impressed by the quality of work and outcomes produced by the students and the support of the faculty members. The research and knowledge the teams gain so quickly make it apparent why Bryant is ranked so high among business schools. I would recommend this program to any business or organization looking to harness the knowledge of Bryant students who will become the future workforce."

Katy Westcott

Founder & CEO of Katrinkles

"Over the past two years, I've worked with Bryant students from the Practicum program. Each project has been unique, ranging from analyzing social media analytics to conducting comparative pricing studies to examining international regulations in depth. I've found participating in the practicum program to be a mutually beneficial experience."
