Northwest Earth and Space Sciences Pathways

Northwest Earth and Space Sciences Pathways (NESSP) is one of NASA's Science Activation Programs. NESSP provides a direct connection to NASA in Washington, Oregon, Idaho & Montana. Our goal is to increase student aspiration towards STEM careers in rural, underserved and underrepresented communities.

NESSP offers hands-on NASA science experiences and educational resources:

- Professional development for educators
- Short-term outreach
- STEM academies and summer camps
- The ROADS National Challenge based on a NASA mission
- Talks from NASA experts
- Equipment, training, and support

Learn about these programs and more at www.nwessp.org

NESSP is based at Central Washington University in Ellensburg, WA and partners with:

- UW Riverways at the University of Washington in Seattle, WA
- Montana State University in Bozeman, MT
- Montana Learning Center in Canyon Ferry, MT
- The University of Idaho in Moscow, ID
- The Museum of Flight in Federal Way, WA
- The Pacific Science Center in Seattle, WA
- Northern Arizona University in Flagstaff, AZ
- Oregon Museum of Science and Industry in Portland, OR
- Olympic Educational Service District in Bremerton, WA
- West Sound STEM in South Park Village, WA
- Red Tailed Hawks in Mukilteo, WA

Brought to you by NASA Sci Act Award 80NSSC 22M0006!

Partner