NOAA's projected temperatures:

March 18 – Mar. 22, 2024, and March 20 – Mar. 26, 2024

A = temperatures above normal
N = equal chance that temperatures are above normal, normal, or below normal
B = temperatures below normal

Data source: NOAA, Mar. 12, 2024

Petroleum Administration for Defense Districts (PADDs)

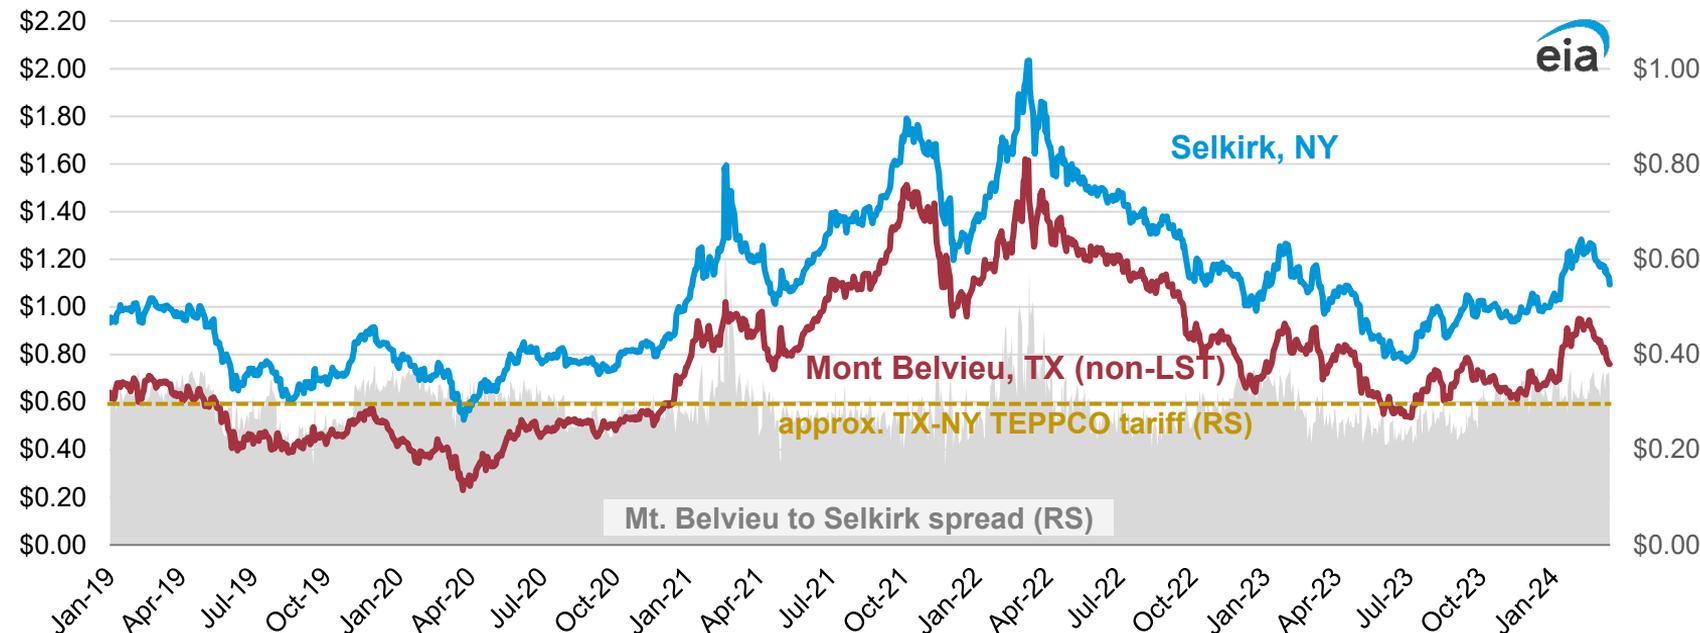

- NOAA forecasts a chance of below-normal temperatures from the Great Lakes to the Atlantic Coast and Gulf Coast. Above normal temperatures are expected from the Pacific Coast to parts of the plains, with the highest probability in the Pacific Northwest. Later in the forecast, warmer/cooler temperatures become less probable, with most of the country forecast to have near-normal temperatures.
- Warmer-than-normal weather will likely result in lower winter heating demand for this time of year in PADDs 4 and 5, while PADDs 1, 2, and 3 will likely have higher heating demand for this time of year. Heating demand will likely be average later in the forecast for all PADDs.

State Heating Oil and Propane Program (SHOPP) updates

- SHOPP is a collaborative program between states and EIA that provides weekly wholesale and retail prices for heating oil and propane at the state level.
- EIA expanded SHOPP in October 2014 to include 14 additional states in propane price data collection. In 2016, EIA added 10 new states to its wholesale propane price publication. This should be taken into consideration when comparing the average prices for the U.S., PADD 1, PADD 1B, PADD 1C, and PADD 2 averages.
- EIA has been providing more granular inventory data to states on a weekly basis since the 2016/2017 heating season.
- EIA implemented two new samples for residential heating oil and propane in October 2019. Under the new sampling methodology, EIA is publishing standard errors for SHOPP prices.
