

MARIPOSA ARTS THEATRE PRODUCTION

LIVING TOGETHER

APRIL 4 – 14, 2019

Following on the heels of sold out performances of our last two shows, Mariposa Arts Theatre's upcoming production is the comedy "Living Together" by Alan Ayckbourn.

The play is one section of the trilogy "The Norman Conquests" and takes place at a country house over the course of one weekend. Family dynamics and idiosyncrasies abound in the light hearted comedy set in the 1970s.

It will run in the Orillia Opera House Studio Theatre April 4 – 14, Thursday to Saturday at 7:30 p.m. and Sunday matinees at 2 p.m. The show is directed by Phyllis Johnson who has directed many shows for Mariposa Arts Theatre including "My Fair Lady" and "Arsenic and Old Lace".

I am hoping that you will be able to circulate this email to your members and possibly organise a group visit. Tickets are $25.00 ($20.00 for groups of 10 or more) and are available from the Orillia Opera House Box Office at 705-326-8011 or online.
