CLEANING OUT?

You might come across a piece of Morris Plains history! The museum is interested in items and ephemera related to Morris Plains town activities, businesses, groups, etc. Recent acquisitions include glass bottles found in a yard and under a porch, surveyor's maps, a Board of Health inspector's pin, and items from a company formerly in Morris Plains. One new exhibit planned for next year will feature items donated to the museum. You might see yours on display!
