

Round Table on the State of Mental Health of Children and Families in Skagit & Island Counties

You and your organization are invited to a community-based conversation on mental health for children and families in our area. In times of great need, partnerships are vital to meeting the need.

We hope you'll join us for a lunch-time conversation about how we might come together to support our communities. We also invite you to share this link with others you feel would be interested in participating in the conversation.
