

4180-01 Latina/o Public Health Issues

Course assesses issues confronting Latinas/os/xs including health disparities, access to quality healthcare, preventative health care, gender, community clinics, and the future of healthcare for Latina/o/x communities.

Guest Lecturer

4290-01 Chicana Feminisms

Course recovers the historical contributions of Chicana feminist thought, history, and activism. We will cover the 1960s to present and Chicana/Latina feminist thought in the US and in a global context. (cross-listed with WGSS)

With Profe Dionne Espinoza

5010 Chicana/o Studies & Contemporary Theory

Development of critical social and cultural theories with emphasis on the production of knowledge about Chicana/o Latina/o communities.

With Profe Jose Anguiano

5030 Seminar: Research Methods

Analysis of research methods with emphasis on behavioral theory & methodologies applied to special fields of culture, history, psychology, politics, education, economics, language; current social issues in Chicana/o Latina/o communities.

With Profe Alejandro Covarrubias

4100-01 Latina/o Communities in the U.S.

Course examines the cultural, social, developmental context of Latina/o/x communities across the U.S. We will focus on the Chicana/o/x experiences from the comparative perspective of Cubans, Puerto Ricans, and South Americans across major U.S. urban areas.

With Profe Anita Revilla

4490-01 Anthropology of Race and Racisms

Course examines the anthropological ideas of race, its emergence, and its relationship to the constructions of racisms and racializations in comparative settings and in contemporary situations.

With Profe ChorSwang Ngin

4900-01 Jotería Expressions in Las Americas

Explores the dynamic field of Jotería studies, whose goal is the study of Chicax Latinx sexuality and gender as a complex colonial, cultural, political, and intersectional formation across Latin America and the United States.

With Profe Rafael Solórzano

Fall 2020 Upper Division & Graduate Courses

