

INDIGENOUS EXPERIENCES IN CONTEMPORARY MEXICO AND LATIN AMERICA

LAS 4500-02 in Fall 2020

Explores the diversity of indigenous peoples, cultures, and identities in contemporary Mexico and Latin American countries. Emphasizes the dynamics of indigenous political representation and current organizational endeavors in indigenous communities. This course has two main objectives: to increase awareness of indigenous peoples' lives, cultures, and contemporary histories from a hemispheric perspective; and to fathom a deeper understanding on how and why indigenous experiences matter.

DR. SANDRA GUTIERREZ

Mondays/Wednesdays
1:40PM - 2:55PM
KH D4057

For more info or to learn more about the Latin American Studies Program:

LAS@CalStateLA.edu