

Allen Beydoun is UWM's Executive Vice President of Sales, where he leads a team of over 700 account executives, team leaders and division leaders. In this role, he works to create strategies to expand and strengthen the UWM broker and financial networks. Allen also contributes to the development of training and educational programs, and consistently works to improve processes by bridging the gap between clients and internal teams, including underwriting, IT and operations. Prior to joining UWM, Allen spent three years at Michigan National Bank as a Branch Manager. He has also been named a HousingWire Vanguard Award winner, and was recognized as one of National Mortgage Professionals "40 under 40."
