Do you know an individual, a health care organization, or an organization that supports the health care industry, that has gone above and beyond to support individuals or organizations struggling during COVID-19? Tell us about them. Has this individual or organization encouraged wellness, developed cutting edge technology, used research or their resources to alleviate issues or improve conditions for members of our regional business community? Nominate them for one of our awards. Awards will be presented at the 2020 Regional Health Care & Life Sciences Virtual Awards Event on TUE. JUNE 16th. Please email your nominations, by category, with a brief description of the individual or organization to Glenn Archer at garcher@gnhcc.com by Wednesday, May 20, 2020.

Manufacturing Company or Project

A manufacturing company or project whose work is going above and beyond to help organizations during COVID-19 and impacting the communities in the region.

Clinical Program

A health care program or provider that has coordinated a clinical program that has made, or has the potential to make an important contribution toward the relief efforts for the COVID-19 crisis.

Research Company or Project

Individuals or teams whose federally funded research has had a significant and demonstrable impact in responding to COVID-19. This includes research and/or laboratory work and/or use of federally funded laboratory equipment and instruments that may have focused on another topic initially and came to address or relate to COVID-19, either contributing to scientific understanding, breakthroughs in treatment, and innovative and science-based responses to the human and/or economic impact of the virus.

Well-Being/Wellness Program

A regional health care program or provider who has demonstrated a commitment to the regional health care community and to patients, through a comprehensive health care services model that has positively impacted the community during COVID-19.

Bio / Life Sciences Company

A health care or life sciences company that has cultivated change in the region's health care industry by instituting new ideas, new programs, or new services within the region that is helping with COVID 19 relief efforts.

Nonprofit Organization

A nonprofit that is going above and beyond to help our neighbors as COVID-19 impacts the communities we care so much about? We want to shine a light on how their compassion, collaboration, and commitment to service is making a difference.
