

Jay Weintraub
CEO and Co-Founder
InsureTech Connect

Jay Weintraub is the CEO and Co-Founder of InsureTech Connect, the world's largest event focused on insurance innovation and digital transformation. He is passionate about face to face as means for catalyzing industries and has spent the past ten years creating industry leading events beginning in 2008 with the launch of LeadsCon, which he sold in 2012 to Access Intelligence, a private equity owned b2b holding company.

In addition to InsureTech Connect, Jay is the also Co-Founder of two additional leading industry events - Grow.co, which serves the mobile app ecosystem and HR Transform which serves people professionals and those shaping the future of work. Prior to his work in the events industry, Jay spent seven years in digital marketing with an emphasis on customer acquisition.

Jay is an investor in more than 30 companies and has been an advisor to a dozen more. He is a graduate of the University of Pennsylvania and resides in New York City with his wife and children.