Dear Trade Partner;

I hope this letter finds you well. It is with a mixture of emotions that I write to inform you of my decision to retire from College City. After 33 years in the industry, the time has come for me to step down and embark on a new chapter of my life.

I wanted to personally thank you, as our partnership over the years has been invaluable to College City. Your support, reliability, and outstanding service have played a pivotal role in our successes and achievements. I am truly grateful for the professional relationship we have developed and will miss working with each of you.

Please rest assured that the transition period will be smooth and well-organized. Jeremy Hussey, who will be taking over as an owner and president of College City, is highly capable and familiar with our business operations. Jeremy will be joining forces with David and Dale as owners and will continue the strong heritage that we are known for. I will continue to work for College City over the next 2 to 3 months as we hire and train a new office person to take over some of my responsibilities.

I would like to express my deepest appreciation for your contribution to our success and for the personal fulfillment that our partnership has brought me over the years. Though I am retiring, I am eager to see how our companies will continue to grow and succeed.

Thank you once again for your continued support and partnership. I wish you and your team all the best for the future and hope that our paths may cross again.

Warmest regards,

Darin Pavek
