STEVE & LAURIE JONES

DIAMONDS USA

At 29 and at the level of Emerald, Steve retired from his exhausting job at UPS to join Laurie full-time in their Amway business. Soon thereafter they reached the Diamond level. They were able to raise their three sons, Nicholas, Keenan and Michael into adulthood while building their business. Not only did they have the privilege of being actively present with their boys each day, they had the freedom to pursue other interests as well. Laurie was involved as a volunteer with organisations that are important to her. Steve has been a coach at all levels in the Glencoe community football program.

Now that their children are grown and on their own, Steve and Laurie are committed to helping as many people as possible realise their dreams. Steve and Laurie know first hand how this business can impact lives. "We are looking for people that have the courage to be different; who have dreams and desires that will not be satisfied by the status quo."
