

By-Laws of the California Landscape Contractors Association
East Bay Chapter

Article I

Name:

The name of the chapter is the California Landscape Contractors Association, East Bay Chapter formerly entitled San Francisco Bay Area East Chapter and, also formerly entitled San Francisco Bay Area/North Chapter.

Article II

Objectives:

The objectives of the chapter are: to further and promote general business interests of landscape contractors through advertising, publicity and public relations; to foster and maintain high standards and ethical practices among landscape contractors; to encourage and maintain a spirit of harmony and cooperation among its members; to help and assist its members in their labor relations; to support legislation deemed beneficial and to oppose legislation deemed detrimental to the welfare of its members, to encourage a continued improvement in the skills, materials, and tools employed in landscape construction; to provide a legally constituted medium through which its members may direct and coordinate their collective efforts and ideas and by mutual endeavor to promote and inspire equitable working relations with other contractors and trades, by or through educational programs.

Article III

Organization:

The chapter is the basic membership group of the Association, chartered by the Association's Board of Directors and operating as a lawful unit of the Association. The chapter is an autonomous organization of persons qualified for membership in the Association. The By-Laws of the California Landscape Contractors Association are the rules governing the chapter.

Interpretation – These By-Laws constitute a written agreement between the Association and its members, directors and officers. These By-Laws should be interpreted in connection with the California Nonprofit Corporation Law which supplements and controls these By-Laws and our State Association By-Laws.

Restrictions – All policies and activities of the Association shall be consistent with applicable federal, state, local antitrust, trade regulation laws and other legal requirements, including California Nonprofit Cooperation Law under which the Association is organized and operated and applicable tax exemption requirements. A chapter's provision for self-government shall not be in conflict with the Articles of Incorporation or the State By-Laws of the Association or the Board of Directors; and to the extent that any such provision is in conflict with any of these, it is void. The Chapter By-Laws are intended to be local level working rules within the framework of the State Association.

Member Obligation to Follow Association Rules – Each member of the Association agrees to be bound by these By-Laws and any amendment thereto and by lawful actions of the Board or voting members of the Association. All board members shall be required to read and be familiar with State and Chapter By-Laws and the required oath of office.
