

Absorb Migration Update

As CAP prepares for another awesome summer executing missions, hosting encampments and special activities, and supporting our day-to-day operations, we wanted to provide you with an update on the transition to a new learning management system, Absorb!

1. Transition Processes:

- We are working toward a June 2024 launch date of the new system, and the most likely date range is between June 11 to 25.
- We will continue to provide updates and will confirm the official launch at least one week prior.
- We strongly encourage all members to complete and finish any critical training functions prior to the launch date AND confirm that they are recorded in eServices.
- Once launch day comes members will be directed to the new system rather than AXIS, but the records in AXIS will be available for administrators to look up and verify information.

2. New Features:

- Global course search to allow easy access to online learning requirements.
- Simple course reset functionality to allow for quick recertification and updating of records.
- Comprehensive VOLU Level content, providing access to automated and moderated modules, as well as VIR modules.
- Integrated Cadet Achievement pages, showing content required to proceed as well as what is available to complete for honor credit.
