Stay Home, Stay Informed, Stay Healthy!

“The ultimate measure of a man is not where he stands in moments of comfort and convenience, but where he stands at times of challenge and controversy.”

Dear Friends and Neighbors,

As you know, information related to the Coronavirus Disease 2019 (COVID-19) is rapidly changing as federal, state and local governments do their best to respond and reduce the spread of this virus. To that end, my office has compiled the important information contained in this guide as a resource for our families, workers, small business owners, neighbors and community. This guide will be updated regularly to reflect the latest information available.

I encourage all residents to sign-up for free real-time alerts from the Philadelphia Department of Public Health by texting COVIDPHL to 888-777. New information is also available on the Department’s webpage as well as the Commonwealth of Pennsylvania’s website, which is regularly updated.

Residents with questions can also call the Greater Philadelphia Coronavirus Helpline at 1-800-722-7112. The Helpline, free and available 24/7, is staffed by trained healthcare providers. This helpline is intended for anyone in the Greater Philadelphia area with questions about the COVID-19 coronavirus.

While these are challenging times, help is on the way and I am confident that, together, we can overcome this crisis. City Council offices are temporarily closed, but you can always get in touch with me or my staff by calling 215-686-3454 or 215-686-3455 (leave a message and we will return your call) or via e-mail at the addresses listed below.

Stay at Home Order from Mayor James F. Kenney

As you know, in an effort to contain the spread of COVID-19, the City of Philadelphia is restricting certain business and personal activities. The City issued a Business Activity and Stay at Home Order detailing restrictions on business activity, personal activity, and congregation in Philadelphia in light of the ongoing COVID-19 pandemic. These latest restrictions took effect Monday, March 23, 2020, at 8 a.m. and remain in effect until further notice.

In addition, on March 25th, the City released voluntary self-quarantine guidelines for individuals who have recently traveled to parts of New York and New Jersey. The City is asking individuals who have traveled to New York City, Nassau, Westchester, and Suffolk counties in New York State, and Bergen County in New Jersey to self-quarantine for 14 days after their last visit to these areas. Information on how to effectively self-quarantine is available here.

Stay at Home Order from Gov. Tom Wolf

All 67 Pennsylvania counties are now under a Stay at Home order until May 8.

All individuals in counties subject to this policy must STAY AT HOME except for certain essential activities and work to provide life-sustaining business and government services.

See Governor Wolf’s order and the Secretary of Health’s order.

Gov. Wolf also announced that Pennsylvania will utilize a three-phase matrix to determine when counties and/or regions are ready to begin easing some restrictions on work, congregate settings, and social interactions. See the full plan for reopening Pennsylvania.

Consumer Protection

As the Coronavirus continues to spread across the world, scammers are taking advantage of consumer fear and confusion to steal their private or financial data. Click the links below to see known phishing and other scams related to Coronavirus and some tips on how to identify them and protect yourself.

ALERTS!!!!

- The City has received reports that some people are knocking on doors pretending to be Census takers and asking for donations. Please be aware that official Census workers will not be knocking on doors until after May 7, 2020, and they will never ask for donations.

- Scam emails about COVID-19 that impersonate organizations, like health or charity organizations, are becoming more frequent. These scam emails mimic or hide their identities so they can steal your login and password to infect your computer and network with malware. Use caution when opening attachments or links in emails unless you double check that they are from a trusted source.

- The PA Department of Revenue and PA Department of Banking and Securities has provided information about new scams to steal personal information related to the issuance of the Economic Impact Payments. For more information about how to protect yourself from these scams, click here.

- The First Judicial District of Pennsylvania (Philadelphia Courts) is advising the public to be on alert for a phone scam that spoofs or fakes the Philadelphia Court's name and telephone number on the recipient's voicemail and/or caller ID. Callers claim to be representatives of the Court, demanding monies or personal information such as social security numbers or credit card numbers. Please be advised that the Court never requests personal identifiers such as social security numbers by telephone call. The Court does not request or accept credit card information by telephone. Credit card payments should only be made through secure online applications, such as PAePAY or through the Court's electronic filing systems.
The Court does not call private citizens to threaten or demand money. The public is cautioned to never give out personal information to unknown callers.

If you have received one of these calls, it is recommended that you contact the Federal Trade Commission. If you are a victim of one of these calls, please contact your local police department or visit the Court’s website here.

Education

School District of Philadelphia

- The School District of Philadelphia will be closed for the remainder of the school year.

- Although school buildings remain closed at this time, teaching and learning will continue for students using digital means. Review and enrichment with teachers began on Monday, April 20th. Planned instruction for the District will resume on May 4th and end June 12th. As the District moves to digital learning, we know parents and guardians are being asked to engage in new roles in their student’s learning. To help ease you into this work, guidance and suggestions are offered here.

- The District will loan a Chromebook to every District K-12 student who needs one, to ensure all students have access to digital learning opportunities while schools remain closed long-term due to COVID-19 response efforts. It will also make digital content available to help students retain, learn and apply skills and strategies with the support of a teacher. The loaner program is free; however, all devices must be returned once schools reopen.

- Starting Monday April 20th, if your District-issued Chromebook computer needs repair or service, you can drop it off at one of the two Parent & Family Technology Support Centers listed below.

- Still need to pick up a Chromebook? The School District of Philadelphia (SDP) remains fully committed to loaning a Chromebook to every District K-12 student who needs one for learning at home — and doing so safely. Click here for what you need to know.

- Parent & Family Technology Support Centers:
  - Both centers will open Monday April 20 and operate Mon-Fri from 9:00 a.m. – 4 p.m., excluding holidays.
  - Education Center, Philadelphia School District, 440 N. Broad Street, 1st Floor Lobby, Philadelphia, PA 19130
- Fitzpatrick Annex Building (rear of Fitzpatrick Elementary School), 4101 Chalfont Drive, Philadelphia PA 19154

- The District also now offers a dedicated telephone support line (215-400-4444) and email (FamilyTechSupport@philasd.org) exclusively for parents and students to help you get your District-issued devices up and running, and to address more basic technical issues with broken or malfunctioning computers.

- K-12 Learning Guides will continue to be available electronically on the District’s website and in paper form at all 49 meal sites.

- For Learning Guide support or general questions, please email covid19info@philasd.org or call 215-400-5300.

Federal Student Aid

- As part of the CARES Act recently signed into law, your payments will automatically stop from March 13, 2020, through Sept. 30, 2020.

- To provide relief to student loan borrowers during the COVID-19 national emergency, federal student loan borrowers are automatically being placed in an administrative forbearance, which allows you to temporarily stop making your monthly loan payment. This suspension of payments will last until Sept. 30, 2020, but you can still make payments if you choose. Read the borrower Q&As to learn more.

- All borrowers with federally held student loans will automatically have their interest rates set to 0% from March 13, 2020 through Sept. 30, 2020.

- To see if you have federal student loans and what types of loans you have, you can check the Federal Student Aid website. Please note that this website won’t tell you if you have any private loans, or if your federal loans qualify for the 6-month forbearance. To find out if your loans are eligible, you should contact your loan servicer. If you are unable to contact your servicer, please reach out to the PA Attorney General’s Bureau of Consumer Protection.

Using Sick Leave

The City’s “Promoting Healthy Families and Workplaces Act,” otherwise known as the sick leave law, has been further defined so that covered workers can use their paid sick leave for COVID-19 related preventative care without fear of retaliation. During the COVID-19 risk, covered employees can use accrued paid sick time for the following:

- Mandated business closures
- Caring for children during school or childcare closures
- Official quarantine and self-quarantine
● Illness and treatment of an illness for yourself or a family member

Employees are not required to provide a note from a medical professional in order to use consecutive paid sick leave during the COVID-19 health risk.

The emergency regulations which provide further definition are posted on the City’s regulations website and are effective immediately.

Workers’ Compensation

There are two filing options. If you believe you may have been exposed to COVID-19 in your workplace, you may be eligible for Workers’ Compensation by either:

- Notifying your employer to file a typical “disease-as-injury” Workers’ Compensation claim, which requires you to provide medical evidence that you were exposed to COVID-19 in the workplace.
- Notifying your employer to file an “occupational disease” Workers’ Compensation claim, which requires you to show that COVID-19 is occurring more in your occupation/industry than in the general population.

Food Access

Many Philadelphians need access to food due to school closures, loss of income or other difficulties caused by the coronavirus outbreak. In response to this need, the City and its partners have developed two ways for residents to find free food:

- Food sites where any resident can pick up free food for their household
- Student meal sites where any child can pick up free meals

Residents can pick up a box of food (one box per household) on Mondays and Thursdays between 10 a.m. and noon at the sites below. Boxes contain non-perishable items on Mondays and fresh produce on Thursdays. No ID or proof of income is required.

STATE LEGISLATION
At the state level, Governor Wolf signed four bills into law on March 27, 2020:

LOCAL LEGISLATION

At the local level, City Council passed an emergency $85.4 million appropriation on April 2, 2020. The breakdown of the funding is shown below:

Nearly all the money goes to the Managing Director’s Office, with the breakdown below:

- $25 million for Class 100 - Personal Services (includes employee salaries, health and medical benefits, defined benefit contributions, overtime pay, part-time/seasonal pay, etc.). Much of this will be for overtime pay.
- $25 million for Class 200 - Purchase of Services (contracts with external for-profit and non-profit organizations)
- $25 million for Class 300 and 400 - Materials & Supplies, and Equipment
- $10 million for Class 500 - Contributions, Indemnities and Taxes (indemnities include payments resulting from lawsuits)
- $400,000 will go to City Council for ways to do direct outreach to constituents via mailers, robocalls, billboards, etc.
  - The primary purpose of this outreach will be to educate constituents about the virus, ways their constituents can receive assistance, and how to avoid the new scams.
Health

According to the Centers for Disease Control and Prevention (CDC), older adults and people who have severe underlying medical conditions like heart or lung disease or diabetes seem to be at higher risk for developing more serious complications from COVID-19 illness. More information on Are you at higher risk for serious illness?

How does it spread?

- There is currently no vaccine to prevent coronavirus disease 2019 (COVID-19).
- The best way to prevent illness is to avoid being exposed to this virus.
- The virus is thought to spread mainly from person-to-person.
- Between people who are in close contact with one another (within about 6 feet).
- Through respiratory droplets produced when an infected person coughs or sneezes.
- These droplets can land in the mouths or noses of people who are nearby or possibly be inhaled into the lungs.

How can I protect myself?

Clean your hands often

- Wash your hands often with soap and water for at least 20 seconds especially after you have been in a public place, or after blowing your nose, coughing, or sneezing.
- If soap and water are not readily available, use a hand sanitizer that contains at least 60% alcohol. Cover all surfaces of your hands and rub them together until they feel dry.
- Avoid touching your eyes, nose, and mouth with unwashed hands.

Avoid close contact

- Avoid close contact with people who are sick.
- Put distance between yourself and other people if COVID-19 is spreading in your community. This is especially important for people who are at higher risk of getting very sick.

Cover your mouth and nose with a cloth face cover when around others

- You could spread COVID-19 to others even if you do not feel sick.
- Everyone should wear a cloth face cover when they must go out in public, for example to the grocery store or to pick up other necessities.

- Cloth face coverings should not be placed on young children under age 2, anyone who has trouble breathing, or is unconscious, incapacitated or otherwise unable to remove the mask without assistance.
- The cloth face cover is meant to protect other people in case you are infected.
- Do NOT use a facemask meant for a healthcare worker.
- Continue to keep about 6 feet between yourself and others. The cloth face cover is not a substitute for social distancing.

How can I protect others?

Stay home if you’re sick

- Stay home if you are sick, except to get medical care. Learn what to do if you are sick.

Cover coughs and sneezes

- Cover your mouth and nose with a tissue when you cough or sneeze or use the inside of your elbow.
- Throw used tissues in the trash.
- Immediately wash your hands with soap and water for at least 20 seconds. If soap and water are not readily available, clean your hands with a hand sanitizer that contains at least 60% alcohol.

Clean and disinfect

- Clean AND disinfect frequently touched surfaces daily. This includes tables, doorknobs, light switches, countertops, handles, desks, phones, keyboards, toilets, faucets, and sinks.
- If surfaces are dirty, clean them: Use detergent or soap and water prior to disinfection.

What are the symptoms of COVID-19?

According to the CDC, the following symptoms may appear 2-14 days after exposure.

- Fever
- Cough
- Shortness of breath

In people with underlying health problems such as lung disease or who are immunocompromised (such as AIDS, cancer, diabetes, asthma, etc.), infection may lead to a more severe illness. The elderly appear to be the most susceptible to severe consequences of infection, including death.

If you develop emergency warning signs for COVID-19, get medical attention immediately.

Emergency warning signs include:

- Difficulty breathing or shortness of breath
- Persistent pain or pressure in the chest
- New confusion or inability to arouse
- Bluish lips or face

Who should get tested for COVID-19?

The Health Department recommends testing for people with fever and cough or shortness of breath if symptoms are severe or worsening, and for those with symptoms who:

- Are over age 50.
- Have medical conditions that might increase the severity of the infection, including diabetes, heart disease, lung disease, kidney disease or immunocompromising conditions.
- Live in a facility with other people (nursing home, college dormitory, prison, shelter).
- Are healthcare workers.

Where can someone get tested in the City of Philadelphia?

- Persons who work in congregate settings, including homeless shelters and prisons

A note about medications

While some western, traditional, or home remedies (such as pain relievers, fever reducers, and cough medicines) may provide comfort and alleviate symptoms of COVID-19, there is no evidence that current medicine can prevent or cure the disease. The World Health Organization (WHO) does not recommend self-medication with any medicines, including antibiotics, as a prevention or cure for COVID-19. However, there are several ongoing clinical trials that include both western and traditional medicines. WHO will continue to provide updated information as soon as clinical findings are available.

As always, before taking any medications, check with a healthcare provider first. Some medications can cause serious issues, including death, particularly if you have underlying health conditions or are already taking certain medicines.
Mental Health

What can I do to support my mental health during this health crisis and time of social distancing?

According to the CDC, the outbreak of COVID-19 may be stressful for people. Fear and anxiety about a disease can be overwhelming and cause strong emotions in adults and children, but coping with stress will make you, the people you care about, and your community stronger.

The City of Philadelphia also has a blog post about how to take care of your mental health during the coronavirus outbreak. Their suggestions include:

1. Connect with people - connecting may be different in this new reality of social distancing, but it can still occur, particularly via technology
2. Find ways to relax
3. Get outside in nature - if you are able
4. Do not ignore your health; talk to your doctor
5. Stay informed using credible sources
6. Consider limiting media exposure

Your mental health is just as important as your physical health. Please be reminded to give yourself the break needed to refresh your mind and reduce your stress levels. If you need to speak with a professional, do not hesitate to contact your primary care physician or the city’s Department of Behavioral Health & Intellectual disAbility Services (DBHIDS).

Many businesses are temporarily closing around Philadelphia as the city ramps up its efforts to contain and eliminate COVID-19 – but immediate need for services related to mental health, intellectual disability and addiction services cannot take any such break.

DBHIDS is open for you! If you find yourself in need, please use the following resources:

Parking

Office Closures: In accordance with the directives of the Governor and the Mayor, the Bureau of Administrative Adjudication, the Parking Violations Branch and Philadelphia Parking Authority (PPA) administrative offices will be closed starting March 17th and will remain closed until further notice.

Parking Enforcement: The Philadelphia Parking Authority will place a special emphasis on enforcing safety violations, including blatant violations that pose a threat to public order and safety such as double-parking, loading zone violations and blocking entranceways or crosswalks. It is essential that motorists park legally during this health crisis so as not to impede traffic flow or block emergency vehicle access. Additionally, meters, kiosks and residential parking time limits will not be enforced.

Scheduled Hearings: If you had a scheduled hearing with the Bureau of Administrative Adjudication between March 17th and April 30th, you will receive a new hearing date by mail.

Booted or Towed Vehicles: To retrieve a vehicle, you will have to pay only those tickets on the impounded vehicle’s license plate. If tickets are eligible for a hearing and paid during this time of administrative office closure, you will still be eligible to contest those tickets when the Bureau of Administrative Adjudication resumes normal operations. In order to claim your vehicle, you must present a driver’s license, vehicle registration and proof of insurance.

1. Online: philapark.org/violations
2. In-person: 2501 South Weccacoe Avenue (the impoundment lot) during the following hours:

This statement was issued by Police Commissioner Danielle Outlaw regarding arrests and public safety:

“To be clear, the Philadelphia Police Department is not turning a blind eye to crime. Persons who commit certain non-violent offenses will be arrested at the scene. Once their identity has been confirmed, they will be released and processed via arrest warrant. This is similar to the ‘summons process’ that is utilized in many other counties throughout the Commonwealth. An officer still has the authority to utilize discretion and take an offender into physical custody for immediate processing, if the officer and supervisor believe the individual poses a threat to public safety.

“In order to balance this approach, personnel from several plain-clothes units have been reassigned to patrol duties to increase police presence and deter crime twenty-four hours a day.

“This temporary response model was implemented to protect our officers, and the communities we serve, from becoming infected or spreading COVID-19. Additionally, these protocols allow us to adjust to the changing availability of resources within other areas of the criminal justice system. To reiterate, criminal offenders will be held accountable for the crimes they commit.”

District Attorney’s Office

District Attorney Larry Krasner issued guidance to the District Attorney’s Office (DAO) unit supervisors and assistant district attorneys (ADAs) for minimizing exposure and transmission of COVID-19 in the criminal legal system. The 2020 Blue Cross Broad Street Run has been postponed to October 4, 2020. Participants who are not able to make the new date have the option to transfer their bib or defer registration until 2021. The normal $15 transfer fee will be waived. Members of the public with questions should visit the Broad Street Run’s FAQ page or email info@broadstreetrun.com.
Sanitation

As the City continues to address the unprecedented COVID-19 pandemic world crisis, the Streets Department has been challenged with maintaining trash and recycling collection on a consistent schedule.

- As such, residents should expect collection delays as the health crisis is beginning to have an impact on employees’ attendance. While the Department has received no reports of employees testing presumed positive for the coronavirus, it recognizes maintaining collection service levels will be hampered during the height of the health crisis due to staffing issues.
- While delivering on-time collections services remains an essential core service, residents are asked for their patience and cooperation while we work to deliver service. The Streets Department thanks its employees for their dedication and commitment during these unprecedented times.
- Beginning April 6, 2020, recycling collections will be picked up every other week. Residents should hold their recycling materials from April 6-11. Recycling collections will resume during the week of April 13 with every other week collections through May 15 or further.
- Sanitation Convenience Centers are currently open Tuesday through Saturday from 8am to 8pm.

Become a Community Response Captain

Similar to the Census Champion Training Program, Community Response Captains will be trained to provide support in their communities during the COVID-19 health crisis. The daily virtual Community Response Captain Program trainings will include updated COVID-19 information, a comprehensive resource guide, and steps for community action in English, Spanish, French and Chinese. A FINAL REMINDER…

STAY HOME! STOP THE SPREAD! SAVE LIVES!

Please stay home to help slow the spread of the coronavirus. The more that people shelter in place, the better chance we have to slow the spread.

There are some exceptions:

- You work at a job that’s labeled “essential”
- You need to go out to help an elderly or ill family member or friend
  - You need to grocery shop, go to the doctor or pharmacy
  - You need to go out and get some exercise

But when you’re out, please cover your face and maintain your social distance. Keep six feet between you and others around you.

We must work together to stop the spread of this virus.
