San Francisco Fire Department

24th Emergency Medical Technician Class of the San Francisco Fire Department to be SWORN IN

On Wednesday, November 22, 2023, Fire Chief Jeanine Nicholson will administer the Oath of Allegiance and present certificates to our seven newest Emergency Medical Technicians.

"This group of men and women have completed a rigorous 8.5-week EMS Academy," said Chief Nicholson. "Some will report to their assignments, marking the beginning of their year-long probationary period, as early as Saturday, November 25th."

Joining the ranks will be twelve men & women with over 20 years of EMS experience, secondary languages, & college degrees in Fire Science, Psychology, Science, and even Economics and Dance. One City EMT and 9910 program graduate, and a recent CCSF EMT program graduate. These dedicated members are beginning a rewarding career with San Francisco's finest. It will be a proud celebration for the new members, their families, and the San Francisco Fire Department.
