

Tour of the National Renewable Energy Laboratory

A general-interest tour of the nearby National Renewable Energy Laboratory will be hosted on Thursday, June 27, at 1 p.m.

Tour capacity is limited, so please sign up for the tour only if your travel plans will allow you to attend. U.S. nationals can register for the tour up until May 10, 2019.

Foreign nationals must register for the tour by May 1, 2019, to allow time for NREL to clear them for the site visit. Specific documentation must be provided by all foreign nationals in advance of the tour and will be provided upon registration.

How To Register

If you wish to attend the NREL tour, please indicate so on the symposium registration form. If you have already registered but did not select the tour, contact the organizers to see if tour spots are still available.