

“The best way out is always through” ~ Robert Frost

We saw students who couldn't get online persist and join a Whatsapp conference call. We are seeing our kids (and parents) become persistent in ways we never knew they could- way to go Middle Schoolers!

Thank you's and Recognition:

- 5th Grade Parent Night- we had a great meeting this week welcoming our 5th grade families. A special Shout out to Paloma Cabal and her mom Helena and Charlie Saenger and his mom Cari who helped present about 6th grade to 120 people!
- We miss you-collage to all our students HERE- Thank you Ms. Bevington for initiating this fun activity!
- Parent Reps- a big thanks to our Parent Reps who met with Dr. Habegger this week and who brought up the following issues to be addressed next week- homework due dates on weekends and teachers recording lessons for students who cannot connect
- 8th Grade Heroes- a big thank you to our HS Heroes and out
- Our MSPR (Middle School Public Relations) creates a video announcement each week- they are keeping us connected- thank you! The WAU link HERE

Information/Reminders:

Independent Work- We would like to remind parents of the importance of having your children complete their work independently. This is how we see if your child has understood the concept. If they have a difficult time, we know we have to reteach the concept. If parents help, we assume they know the concepts without helping.

Looking Ahead:

- ❖ Final- 8th grade Advisory- May 27 9:15-9:45AM
- ❖ We are happy to announce our virtual MS talent show on Friday, May 29 9:30-10AM. Middle School (Kind of) Gots Talent. We're asking students to share videos of funny talents with us to combine into one big show. It will be a great way of bringing our community together.
