“You must do the thing you cannot do”~ Elenor Roosevelt

Though the changes we were discussing were positive, with change- good or bad- can come some nervousness, stress and sadness. When things change, like they have for us moving from face to face to online, for example, we have to “say goodbye” to our old way of doing things. For some of us, we cry, talk to a trusted friend or family member, watch too much TV, dive into a book or video game; whatever it is for you, it's important to realize- oh, I'm grieving something. Additionally, we need to “say hello” to our new thing. I know this sounds funny but I'm reading a lot on change especially in schools and this form of saying goodbye (grieving) and saying “hello”, welcoming change is very important for adjusting. Please know that, though we don't have all the answers to when we will be back together face-to-face, we are thinking of how we can honor students who are transitioning. Below, I've listed some tentative dates with some things we have to look forward to. If you have questions, concerns, please don't hesitate to contact me directly by phone 310.310.7261 or via email at ashley.barker@cng.edu. I'm finding connection during these challenging times have become invaluable. I appreciate all the contacts this week in talking about these important transitions.

Our agenda includes-

Discussing transition activities, scheduling, shifting to longer-term distance learning in a time of uncertainty, discuss the article as needed.

Wednesday:

Student-Led Conferences- Wednesday, April 22- No regular classes

We are pleased to announce the virtual continuation of the scheduled Student-Led Conferences (SLC) on Wednesday, April 22 led by your child's ADVISOR. SLCs are required and are an important time for students to reflect upon and share their learning. All of the students will work with their ADVISORS to identify and reflect on learning in all their classes. We'd like to take time to ask about how things are going with the distance learning format and how we can better meet the needs of your children.

Make sure you sign up! Your children were sent a sign up sheet. Please contact ADVISORS directly if you'd like specific information about an individual class. The purpose of these conferences, if you're your child to LEAD the conversation on how they are doing. If you have specific class questions, please contact the class teacher directly during office hours. Our specialist teachers will be available for appointments on Wednesday also- please reference the individual conference email you were sent directly for more information.
